LINDA WELLENBACH

Linda Wellenbach's life can best be described as a sumptuous, expanding tapestry of art and service.

Challenged early by a teen pregnancy, Linda persevered. She KNEW she had a mission. She became an interior designer, a public speaker, a mentor and an advocate for teens. Motivated by her impact, she spent years exploring, healing, studying, training and clarifying her life's purpose.

Today, weaving the knobby, rich hues of firsthand wisdom, insatiable curiosity, and passionate purpose with the vibrant silky brights of playful creativity, humor, and movement, Linda helps kids fall in love with their lives. Addressing BIG topics like dreams, goals, relationships, time management, choices, values and beliefs, conflict resolution, self care, and more, Linda delights as she inspires.

Linda is married and the mother of two grown sons. A certified "Conscious Relationship and Body-Mind Vibrance Coach" and an apprentice in the Hendrick's Institute Transformational Leadership program (in California), Linda is also a trained hospice/bereavement visitor and grief group facilitator.
